ABOUT PEABODY.

Peabody is well located for growth. Its accessibility from all parts of Essex county is so evident that the Essex Agricultural Society decided upon this town for its permanent location, although other towns were made eligible.

Our new parks have been laid out and are being improved, one on the high ground of Lowell street, adjoining the fair grounds, which will prove things of beauty and a joy forever.

Our railroad facilities are first-class. Trains to Boston via both the Eastern and Western divisions of the B. & M. R. R., direct trains to Lawrence and Lowell, direct bills of lading from the West, ample track accommodations and prompt shipments. Adding to this the superior express service, both light and heavy, gives advantages in this line possessed by few places of our size.

Our street car service is superior and the B. & M. R. Co. is entitled to credit for its efforts to accommodate the public. This brings vast areas of building lots within easy reach of the laboring man, whether his work is in Peabody, Danvers, Salem, Lynn or Boston, and enables him to have a comfortable and comfortable home at small expense. Its location is beautiful, diversified by hill and dale, porous soil, and to the sea, good facilities for drainage, all conducive to a low rate of taxation.

Important considerations to induce growth and attract new owners are public improvements, especially if largely paid for. Under this head we have a fine department, street lighting, fire department, electric lighting, water supply, etc.

In all these particulars Peabody invites the careful investigation of parties desiring to locate. Our water supply has proved adequate in all emergencies, the pipes have been extended until nearly every street has the high service and water of the most excellent quality.

The efficiency of the police department is proved by our freedom from disturbance and crime.

Our roads compare favorably with those in neighboring cities and towns and are always kept in good condition. With crushed stone for highway use, we have a plentiful supply of best material and can furnish macadam roads at low cost.

Our schools, school attendance and per cent. for school purposes puts us in the front rank in educational matters, and our people are fully awake to the importance of the public school system.

The Town House, built in 1882, commands the attention of every stranger passing through the town. The grounds comprise a whole square. The building is ornamental in design and ample for all purposes for the next generation. The total cost including land was $108,000, and the last payment was made in 1891.

The Peabody Institute is a solid architectural and educational monument to the generous philanthropy of Geo. Peabody. It contains 33,000 volumes, many of great value and is entirely self-sustaining.

Our fire department is not behind that of any place of our size in the State. The apparatus, buildings and personnel of the force are all that could be desired. Everything is nearly new. We have the Gamewell automatic electric alarm, and the record of our fire department is most creditable.

Our municipal electric light plant was built both for the present and the future, and is the pride of our town. The streets of the whole centre, north and south parts of the town, are thoroughly lighted all night and every night at a cost, including interest and allowance for depreciation, of $70 per light. In 1893 an incandescent addition to the plant was constructed, from which the public buildings are lighted, and commercial light furnished at rates forty per cent. less than usually charged by private parties. At this low rate the income from light sold will materially reduce the cost of street lighting in the near future.

In municipal affairs our people are conservative. Town officers are rather permanent than otherwise, many having been in service many years, while our late town clerk and treasurer was in public service nearly half a century.

Town affairs are conducted free from suspicion of corruption, and the town's credit enables the treasurer to place loans at very favorable rates.

Public business is usually transacted in town meetings with promptness, measures commending themselves to the good judgment of the voters being adopted with little debate.

In the opinion of many business men nothing could be of greater importance as a municipal advantage than a low tax rate and small debt. In these respects our town is ready for comparison with its competitors.

By the statement for 1895 the total town debt, less available resources, was $177,578.95. Leaving out the amount due for water supply the debt becomes less than $100,000, or less than 1.4 per cent., a showing far below that authorized by the statutes, with all modern improvements well provided for.

Our tax rate for 1897 is $16 per thousand and we are paying upon all our municipal debts, in such degree as is necessary to extinguish much of it during the next ten years.

The water bonds, maturing in 1911, require an annual appropriation of only $1000, and the original electric light bonds, only $500 per year. The tax rate for several years has been about $16 and probably may be kept as low or lower in the future.

The future of Peabody, then, seems to depend upon the people. A boom must come if our citizens will "hustle." United effort will develop present industries and draw others.

Being almost a city, so near the "Hub," and possessing all the advantages enumerated, ought to make it a sure thing that another decade will show a great advance in every line of municipal prosperity.

Under present conditions the town should make for parties to search out its assets, for it has the privilege of locating business within its limits, to build up its prosperity, gets less. It is only those who advertise their business that report satisfactory growth.

OUR COUNTY FAIR.

Three years of the County Fair in its permanent home in Peabody, and its constantly increasing success, can leave no doubt in the mind of any visitor here in these years that the location of the Fair here was a wise choice of those who had the matter in charge.

The nearness to Salem, Lynn, Beverly, Danvers, Marblehead, Swampscott and Saugus, and the quick and easy transportation from all parts of the county, assure a larger attendance at this point than could be drawn to any other in the county, as is evidenced by the experience of the last three years.

The attractions here will constantly increase, with the extension of the grounds, erection of new buildings such as are needed, surely one for display of agricultural implements, and possibly for a general exhibition hall, though except for the inconvenience of having the exhibit separated, there could be no better accommodations than now furnished by Peabody in the free use of its great and grand Town Hall.

Emerson Park, adjoining the Fair Grounds, is even now in its infancy and partial development, a place that should, and will as it becomes known, attract from far and near lovers of the beautiful and grand in natural scenery, affording as it does from its lofty outlook enchanting views of the country for many miles around. Some friends from other towns walking with us there Wednesday were surprised and delighted at the beauty and extent of view in every direction, and said they had no idea Peabody could offer such a rare attraction. Sutton Heights, in the east part of the town, is another park from which almost equally charming views may be enjoyed.

Any one who may visit either of these grand view-points, will excuse us for this diversion from what was begun for an article on the Fair—and the home of the Fair, Peabody.

CITIZENS OF PEABODY.

This paper is the result of a late thought in connection with the Fair in Peabody this week. At first we contemplated only the getting out of a paper to give away at the Fair, to keep up an appearance that Peabody had a local paper.

Not wishing to bear the whole expense of the work, we approached a few of our enterprising merchants and manufacturers and obtained their ready aid in the way of advertising. And with such encouragement we undertook to give a full directory of the business and public enterprise of the town, in alphabetical arrangement and under classified headings.

And that we have done, on the third and other pages, and found it a labor greater than could be handled in the limited time, in connection with other work, without sacrificing largely the original purpose to treat mainly of the Fair. Later it seemed best, perhaps, in the eyes of our visitors, to the neglect of the Fair—which was sure to get abundant praise from other hands.

And so we have given Peabody—to several thousand strangers who have come here this week—the best presentation of her business and worthy institutions and attractions that has been possible under the circumstances. We had no time to go around to see if all those whose names and business are included in this directory were willing to pay 25 or 30 cents for their publication, and leave that to their personal choice.

This paper will be published one or two weeks, to ascertain if there is any wish or interest of a considerable number of Peabody persons to have a Peabody paper, devoted to Peabody's interests and good report. And with that view, we shall send copies of the paper to as many as possible of those who would be supposed to have such an interest, and if we do not receive voluntary response, shall, so far as possible, follow them with a canvass for subscriptions. If one thousand subscriptions can be obtained at $1.00, or 75¢ at $1.50 per year, or from now until Jan., 1899, a paper can be published that will be creditable to Peabody, and of great advantage to her material interests and good report.

If there is not that degree of interest and pride and public spirit among the eleven thousand inhabitants of this ancient and historic town, which many of her living and deceased sons and daughters have done so much to aid and honor; and if Peabody is satisfied to remain and be known and referred to as the one only community of over four thousand inhabitants in the whole length and breadth of this great American Republic, without a local paper, why, then—well, words fail us.

But it cannot be that with returning better business conditions, when all are hoping for a share of the improvement and would make known the claims and inducements they have to offer, that the large interests and hopes of Peabody are to remain without means of making themselves known through a paper of its own and bearing its own name. No, it cannot be that this rich, populous, patriotic, cultivated and liberal community, with all the substantial and desirable advantages so clearly and forcibly set forth in other columns by one of her foremost citizens, shall remain unknown, when a dollar a year from a thousand persons, or equal to that, would supply a creditable medium through which all good things and interests could be discussed and printed under the name of Peabody, by her own people and published and preserved for reference.

This article was not in the Fair edition, and is only for Peabody eyes.

An article setting forth the many attractions and advantages of Peabody as a place of residence and of business, will be found in this paper and should be read and proclaimed by every well-wisher of the town.

It is substantially on the line of a letter printed in THE UNION in 1895, written by our honored townsman, C. H. Goulding, then chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

The statements made were then absolutely true; and all the conditions named are even better now. With such natural and acquired advantages, it needs only the unity of purpose, public spirit and pulchritude that such a community should have and exert, to double the business of this town in the next few years. Come, citizens of Peabody, rouse yourselves and make a strong pull, a long pull and a pull altogether for some of the help that comes necessarily to those that help themselves.

THE FAIR.

That is a short name for so immense an affair; too large for more than brief mention in this paper. In fact, as is elsewhere stated, our main purpose, so far as the Fair is concerned, was to place Peabody and its business and resources favorably before the visitors who came here from abroad to see the Fair for themselves. And an afterthought has been to place Peabody before itself; and that, we have also tried to do, in this later edition.

Briefly Told.

All the appointments of the Fair, from the important element of fair weather, along the lines of articles presided over by the fair and admirers and lovers of the fair, the good fare in the church vestry, low fare at the ticket offices, fair exhibit at the Fair Grounds, fair races, fair firemen, fair trades' procession and marching, fair men a-horse, more than fair attendance, fair order everywhere maintained by Chief Wiggins and his fair corps of "the finest," all combined to make the 77th Annual Fair of the Essex Agricultural Society, at Peabody, on Sept. 21, 22 and 23, 1897, it is believed, the most interesting and successful one ever held.

All Know Enough.

It would be a superfluous labor, if not a real unkindness, to tell any person in Peabody about the Fair held here this week. Who has not been and seen and heard and had a part thereof in its every point or feature?

The ladies and gentlemen who spent three days and evenings at the hall arranging, recording and judging the thousands of articles on exhibition, will not wish the details brought again to their attention. They will be fortunate if, with great effort, their minds and dreams are not burdened for weeks with visions of rugs, quilts, mats, handkerchiefs, fancy work, pictures, flowers, fruit, vegetables, soap, etcetera.

The men and boys and girls who accompanied the trades' procession, from Marshal Quint to the wild whirled on the News' tallyho, will not care to read about that.

The scorers in the bicycle race and those who witnessed their feats, have all they care to know of that for a time. Our firemen and the witnesses of their parade, and capture of two prizes, are well satisfied with their work and will wait contentedly until opportunity offers for other victories. Read their records of past services, in other columns.

All who witnessed the handsome horses, cattle, pigs and poultry, and later promenaded the "Midway," know more than they can be told of those features.

The gentlemen who attended the meeting for election of officers for the Fair the coming year are satisfied with their work, and so is everybody else.

The gentlemen who stood in the ticket offices and received forty-two hundred dollars, and those who guarded the doors and gates and took tickets are glad enough to take a rest.

The honored visitors and numerous persons who ate good dinners and heard bright speeches in the church vestry will, no doubt, retain a pleasing memory of those exercises.

Chief Wiggins and his noble body of police must have the satisfaction of responsible service well performed, and knowledge of the full approval of their constituent fellow citizens.

The band? O, they can keep on playing; we can all enjoy their music.

The bicycle race on Wednesday afternoon attracted a large crowd to the Fair grounds. The first race was a one-mile handicap. There were three trials heats. In the finals, C. N. Hargraves of Saxtonville came in first, H. B. Hills of Providence, second; W. B. Thompson of Gloucester, third and F. B. Kent of Rowley, fourth. Time, 2:37 1-5.

The prizes for the one-mile handicap were as follows:—First, $30 diamond ring; second, $20 watch; third, $10 gold ring; fourth, $8 dress suit case. A special prize, a pair of bicycle shoes, given by Manning & Conway, was won by W. B. Thompson for the fastest heat.

The one-mile championship of Essex County was declared no race after two trials and three heats had been run; the referee had set a time of 2 minutes 25 seconds and neither of the finals were ridden in the allotted time.

First final: P. P. Kent, first; H. P. Farnham, second; E. O. Peabody, third. Time, 2:37.

Second final: J. F. Ingraham, first; B. A. Ingraham, second; H. P. Farnham, third. Time, 2:36.

Third final: H. P. Farnham, first; E. O. Peabody, second. Time, 2:35 4-5. The Ingraham brothers refused to ride in the third final.

In the two-mile handicap, final heat, W. B. Thompson, of Gloucester, came in first; H. B. Hills, second; R. Humes, Beverly, third; C. N. Hargraves, of Saxtonville, fourth. Time, 5:10 3-5.

First prize, $35 diamond ring; second, $25 diamond ring; third, $15 ice pitcher; fourth, $7 diamond pin.

Several riders were thrown, it being alleged that Kent threw J. F. Ingraham in the final of the championship mile. The Farnhams, F. T. Benton and J. P. Henry were also thrown.

People kept running across the track at the peril of their limbs, during the races. One little girl had an escape that caused the spectators to hold their breaths. She ran across and had almost reached the fence when a bunch of riders came around the corner. She stopped suddenly, allowing one rider to pass in front of her and a step forward saved her from one who passed directly behind. She scrambled under the fence just in time to escape a third.

Owing to the high wind which came across the streams no big records were made at the firemen's muster on Thursday afternoon. The City of Lynn, the first engine scheduled to play, broke its plunger and was unable to play. The highest record, 178 ft. 11 3-4 inches was made by the Eagle of Lynn, the first tub to play. The second prize, $125, was taken by the Tormentor of Peabody, who reached 171 ft. 2 in. The White Angel of Salem, only succeeded in wetting the paper 158 ft. 3 in. It was followed immediately by the Union of Peabody, its particular rival, which reached 161 ft. 8 3-4 in. beating the Salem tub by 3 3-4 in. and securing third prize. The Union was the last tub to play. The fourth prize was taken by the Atlantic of Swampscott whose longest play was 161 ft. 8 1-2 in.

The list is as follows:

1. City of Lynn, Lynn, broke plunger. 16 1-4
2. Eagle, Lynn. 178 11-3-4
3. M. A. Pickett, Marblehead 171 1-2
4. Tormentor, Peabody. 171 2
5. Essex 2, Essex. 162 1-2
6. Enon, Wenham. 124 3-4
7. Tiger, Newburyport. 143 0 4-8
8. Eureka, Hudson. 156 0
9. Atlantic, Swampscott. 161 8 1-2
10. Oko, Marblehead. 148
11. White Angel, Salem. 158 1
12. Union, Peabody. 161 8 3-4

There was great applause from the friends of the Unions when it was announced that they had beaten the White Angel. The little Tormentor kept up her long-established reputation as a prize winner.

One of the men on the Newburyport engine dropped dead on the brakes, and the engine was withdrawn. This was made a fine showing in the parade.

USE OF COLD MEAT.

"It will seldom happen in any household that the larder is found utterly bare of cold meat, and a little ingenuity will make this into a savory dish in a short space of time. Supposing there is no meat at command, as may happen in country districts, we have surely eggs to fall back upon, and a nicely made omelette, with the accompaniment of fresh lettuce salad, fruit, bread and butter, and hot fragrant coffee is a fit repast for the most fastidious. We have cream to fall back upon also, as a rule; and one may make delicious sandwiches with preserved fruit and whipped cream, or savory ones by spreading brown bread with thick cream, sprinkling between the slices grated cheese and a dust of cayenne pepper. It is not, however, so much the actual food itself that we have need to fear for, when taken unawares, but its serving, its accessories, and our own surroundings. Few guests come for the sake of eating at even the most luxurious tables, but fewer still are the guests whose eyes will not mark the deficiencies in refinement, or be quick to note the contrast between the entertainment provided them when their coming was anticipated and that when it was a "surprise."

Has Peabody any reason to expect a boom? It is shown in another column of this paper that she has unusual advantages and inducements to offer for new business and new enterprise. But what means has she to let people know it? Moral: Support a local paper.

The Herald is feeling very much grieved because some foreign countries do not like our tariff. Well, what country and people do we make laws for, anyway? The present tariff seems to be working well for Americans, and so long as that is the case, we are not disposed to grumble because Argentine is disgruntled.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

The following beautiful composition was found in Charleston, S. C., during the civil war; it was printed on very heavy yellow satin, and is quite a literary curiosity, as well as an interesting relic of the war.

From the New York Herald, 1864.

To do our duty unto thee—OUR FATHER.

To whom all praise, all honor should be given.

For thou art the great God—

WHO ART IN HEAVEN.

Thou, by thy wisdom, rulest the world's whole frame;

Forever, therefore—

HALLOWED BE THY NAME;

Let nevermore delays divide us from thy glorious grace, but let

THY KINGDOM COME.

Let thy commands opposed be by none,

But thy good pleasure and—

THY WILL BE DONE.

The very same—

IN EARTH AS 'TIS IN HEAVEN.

Then for our sins, O Lord, we also pray

Thou wouldst be pleased to—

GIVE US THIS DAY

The food of life, wherewith our souls are fed.

Sufficient raiment, and—

OUR DAILY BREAD.

With every needful thing do thou relieve us.

And of our money, O Lord—

KEEP US FREE.

All our belongings for Him whom thou dost love.

To make us or to keep us—

OUR TREASURES.

For we are mortal, O Lord, as all believe.

And thou wilt punish us—</

The Iowa silver party platform (written in June) reads: "Prosperity has not made its appearance; the mills and shops are closed down; the army of the unemployed is growing larger; the farmers of Iowa are marketing their crops at lower prices than ever before." Hindsight is indeed more accurate than foresight.

Mayor Strong's praise of Seth Low's letter and his declaration that he will vote for him whether indicted by the Republicans or not, is creditable to the Chief Executive of New York, and will help his candidacy immensely.

REFLECTS THE TOWN.

There never was, never will, and never can be a live town without a live newspaper. The newspaper is dependent on the town. It reflects the push, progress and aspirations of the town. Without home patronage it cannot live and thrive; then again, while it is dependent on the town, the town cannot get along without it. There is no auxiliary so valuable to a growing town as an outspoken, public-spirited paper, wisely and well managed.—The New England Press.

Before the season ends there will be 10,000 people in the Klondike country, and one good road there would have saved them $500 each in the cost of travel and supplies. This makes $5,000,000, and it is a low estimate.—Reading Chronicle.
